MOVIE CLUB

The Movie Club serves as a vibrant platform for exploring the educational, social, cultural, and psychological dimensions of learning through movies. Through carefully selected screenings and discussions, the club helps student-teachers appreciate the potential of films as effective pedagogical tools while nurturing creativity, empathy, and critical thinking. The club also encourages aspiring teachers to view cinema beyond entertainment and explore its possibilities for classroom instruction, value education, social awareness, and learner engagement. By fostering media literacy and creative expression, the club inspires students to create short films and educational videos that can contribute to teaching and learning.

Objectives

- To promote the use of films as an innovative tool for teaching & learning
- To develop critical thinking, observation, and reflective skills among student-teachers
- To enhance media literacy and visual communication skills
- To encourage creativity and storytelling through short-film production
- To help future teachers integrate audiovisual resources effectively in classroom instruction

Activities

- Screening of educationally relevant feature films, documentaries, and short films
- Post-screening discussions, reflections, and critical reviews
- Film appreciation sessions focusing on educational themes and pedagogical insights
- Workshops on script writing, storytelling, cinematography, and video editing
- Short-film and educational video production by students
